LONGHORNS SET TO KICKOFF EIGHTH YEAR OF MACK BROWN ERA:

Texas enters its eighth season under Mack Brown with 17 starters (seven offense/nine defense/one kicker) and 46 lettermen (18 offense/25 defense/3 specialist) returning from a team that tied the Horns single-season victory record (11-1), claimed the Rose Bowl Championship and posted its top national finish (No. 4 in ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll) since 1981. That marked the fifth straight year the Horns ranked among the nation's final Top 12, a UT first, and the third final Top 10 ranking in the last four years. One of only two teams nationally riding a string of seven consecutive nine (or more) win seasons, Texas enters 2005 on the heels of the school's first-ever streak of four-straight 10 (or more) victory campaigns. UT and Oklahoma are the only two schools nationally that have won at least 10 games in each of the last four years.

TEXAS OPENS WITH NO. 2 RANKING: With a No. 2 ranking, Texas matched its highest-ever Associated Press Preseason standing. The last time the Longhorns entered the year ranked second in the AP Preseason Poll was 1970. UT also was rated second entering the 1962 and 1965 seasons. The No. 2 AP preseason ranking matched the Longhorns standing in the USA Today Coaches Preseason Top 25 Poll released on August 5. That No. 2 national ranking was Texas' highest in the coaches poll since 2002, when it ranked second for the first eight weeks of the season. It marks the sixth consecutive season the Longhorns have opened the year in The AP Top 10 and the fourth time in the last five years they have been ranked in the Top 5.

Texas has finished the year ranked among The AP Top 10 in three of the last five years and is riding a UT record streak of five straight AP Top 12 finishes.

TURN BACK THE CLOCK: Honoring its more than a century of college football tradition, Texas will wear throwback jerseys for its game with Louisiana-Lafayette. UT's senior returning starters pictured on the cover of the 2005 yearbook are wearing the jerseys, and the helmet featured in the photo are the throwback uniform pieces for that game. The most noticeable difference in the throwback uniform will be the addition of numbers above the Longhorn on the helmet and the removal of the "Texas" across the front of the jersey, as well as the individual players name on the back. The number was first displayed on the UT helmet in 1957, at which time the Longhorn logo was not a helmet feature. UT's Longhorn logo was added in 1961 and the number was moved to the back of the helmet in 1967. "Texas" first appeared on the jersey in 1981.

1963 CAPTAINS HONORED: In honor of the throwback uniforms, the captains of the 1963 Longhorns will be represented at the opening coin toss versus Louisiana-Lafayette. David McWilliams and Tommy Ford, along with Coach Darrell Royal will be present, and a recognition of Scott Appleton will be made.

THE SERIES: Texas and Louisiana-Lafayette are meeting for the second time in their history. The Longhorns own a 1-0 edge in the series after a 52-10 win in Austin on Sept. 9, 2000.

SEVEN YEARS UNDER MACK BROWN: With a 70-19 (.787) record in seven seasons at UT, Mack Brown is off to the best coaching start in UT history. The 70 victories over the last seven seasons are tied for the fourth-most nationally during that stretch. Brown has led the Horns to a 43-8 (.843) mark over the last four seasons, which is also fourth-best nationally. He led the Longhorns to back-to-back 11-win seasons in 2001-02, a UT first, and consecutive Top 10 finishes in 2001-02, a UT best dating back to 1977-78. The Horns string of seven straight bowl games is the best for UT since it went to nine in a row from 1977-85. Brown's personal strings, including time at North Carolina, go back even further. He has posted 15 consecutive winning seasons and has directed his team to 13 straight bowl games. Both of those marks are the second-longest active streaks in the nation.

UT IN OPENERS: In its previous 112 years of football, UT is 92-17-3 (.835) in season-opening games. The Longhorns are 71-7-2 (.900) when they open the year at home. Head coach Mack Brown enters his eighth year at UT having won eight of his last nine and 14 of his last 17 season-opening games. He is 6-1 in openers at UT and was 8-2 at North Carolina.

THE ONE AND ONLY: After posting back-to-back nine (or more) win seasons at North Carolina prior to taking over at Texas in 1998, Mack Brown has registered at least nine victories for nine consecutive seasons. He is the only active NCAA Division I-A head coach currently riding a string of nine, nine (or more) victory campaigns in a row.

AND THEN THERE WERE TWO:

Texas posted at least nine victories for a UT record seventh straight season in 2004. The Longhorns and Miami (Fla.) are the only NCAA Division I-A schools that are currently riding a streak of at least seven straight nine (or more) win seasons.

FIVE STRAIGHT TOP 12 FINISHES:

Texas' No. 5 ranking in 2004 marked the fifth straight year the Horns have finished the year ranked among the nation's Top 12. That is the first time UT has ever accomplished that feat. The 2004 standing followed a No. 12 ranking in 2003, a No. 6 ranking in 2002, No. 5 ranking in 2001 and No. 12 ranking in 2000. Texas has finished the year ranked among the nation's Top 25 in each of Mack Brown's seven years in Austin. The last time the Horns posted seven straight Top 25 finishes was when UT recorded eight consecutive Top 25 finishes from 1968-75. Texas enters 2005 having been ranked among The Associated Press Top 25 for 76 straight weeks. That's the Horns longest stint in that poll since they posted a school-record 113 consecutive weeks from 1968-76. UT has been ranked among the USA Today Coaches Poll Top 25 for 102 straight weeks.

WIRE-TO-WIRE: Texas and Miami are the nation's only two schools that have both started and finished the season ranked among the nation's Top 12 teams in each of the last five seasons. In 2004, Texas was ranked No. 5 and Miami was No. 11.

CONFERENCE COMPETITION:

Mack Brown, who has won or shared the Big 12 South Division Championship three times, is 46-10 (.821) in seven seasons of Big 12 Conference play. That is a significant improvement from the 8-8 (.500) mark Texas produced in Big 12 competition the two years prior to his arrival, the Horns first two years in the league.

HORNS AT HOME:

Texas is 38-3 (.927) at Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium under Mack Brown. Including a perfect 6-0 in 2004, the Horns have won 10 straight and 29 of their last 30 games at home. In contrast, UT was 25-11 at Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium in the seven seasons prior to Mack Brown's arrival. UT's 20-game home-winning streak from 1999-2003 was the program's longest since a 42-gamer from 1968-76 (No. 7 on the NCAA all-time list). The home-winning streak also was tied for the third-longest in UT history.

HOME FIELD DOMINANCE:

Texas has been dominant at home in winning more than 90 percent of its games at Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium under Mack Brown. In 41 games under Brown, Texas has outscored its opponents, 1,690-

656, or an average of 41-16. An opponent has scored at least 24 points just seven times in the last 41 home games. Texas has scored 24 or more points 35 times during that stretch.

BIG 12 HOME COOKING:

UT has won 20 straight Big 12 home games. Texas is 24-1 (.960) in league home contests under Mack Brown. Kansas State's 35-17 win in Austin in 1999 is the only Big 12 home defeat of a Mack Brown squad.

"FAN"-TASTIC:

Texas has been one of the best-attended programs in the nation over the past six years, drawing nearly 82,000 fans per game. The Horns, who have played in front of a sellout home crowd in the last 28 home games, have attracted nine of the top 10 crowds in UT history since Mack Brown took over the program in 1998. The 2004 season saw yet another year of record-setting season ticket sales, as the Horns sold 66,700 (25,957 more than the record set prior to Brown's arrival). That comes on the heels of a record-setting season in 2003 when UT sold 66,500 and 2002 when the Horns sold 63,000 season tickets. In 1999, Texas sold a record 48,300 season tickets, a total that was nearly 9,000 more than the previous all-time season ticket record of 39,743 set

THE LAST TIME - #6 TEXAS 52, LOUISIANA-LAFAYETTE 10

Austin, Texas, Sept. 9, 2000: Major Applewhite threw for 315 yards and four TDs (tied for No. 3 on the UT all-time single-game list) as Texas scored 52 unanswered points in a 52-10 win over Louisiana-Lafayette. Upon entering the game late in the first quarter, Applewhite completed a school-record tying nine straight passes. He completed passes to seven different receivers, including four freshmen. Leading the way was true freshman Roy Williams, who caught six passes (No. 4 on the UT all-time single-game freshman list) for 105 yards (No. 10 on the UT all-time single-game freshman list). Fifth-year senior Brandon Healy caught four passes for 88 yards and a pair of TDs. Including Chris Simms' 88 passing yards and a TD, UT completed 25 of 40 passes for 403 yards and five TDs on the day. First-team All-Big 12 RB Hodges Mitchell scored by rush and reception as he tallied 104 all-purpose yards on just 15 plays (6.9 yards per play). The Longhorns held the Ragin' Cajuns to just 68 yards rushing on 42 carries and 251 yards of total offense. Defensive tackles Shaun Rogers (eight tackles, four tackles for loss, 1.5 sacks, three QB pressures) and Casey Hampton (seven tackles, one tackle for loss, two caused fumbles) led the way for the UT defense. Linebacker Everick Rawls led the team with nine tackles.

in 1997. In 2000, the Longhorns upped that total to 53,617 season tickets sold, and in 2001, UT broke the record again, increasing the total to 56,350. Texas ranked 10th nationally with an average of 83,094 fans per game last season and stood ninth in home attendance by drawing a UT record 83,339 fans per game in 2003. The Horns' season total of 500,034 fans in six home games in 2003 stands as the highest total in UT history. Its total of 498,556 last season was the third-best total on school record.

OFFENSIVE EXPLOSION: In seven seasons under Mack Brown and offensive coordinator Greg Davis, UT's explosive offense has produced five of the top six passing seasons, six of the top eight total yardage campaigns and the top five scoring years in school history. Over the last seven years, the Longhorns have registered 23 school records, nineteen 50-point games and three of the top five total offensive games on school record. Since Brown took over in 1998, UT has produced twenty-two 500-yard total offense performances (there are only 45 of them in the 112 years of Texas football) and has recorded five of the school's fifteen 600-yard total offensive games. The Horns' balanced attack has produced at least 400 yards of offense in 32 of its last 51 games and has registered 200 yards both passing and rushing 26 times in seven seasons under Brown and Davis. UT ranked second in the nation in rushing (299.2 ypg), seventh in total offense (464.4 ypg) and 12th in scoring (35.3 ppg) last season. Texas rushed for at least 300 yards six times last season, the most since 1977. The Horns posted at least 600 yards of offense twice in 2004, recording 673 yards of offense (third-most in UT history) versus North Texas on the strength of 513 rushing yards, the most since 1977 versus Rice (516), and 600 total yards (15th-best total in school history) against No. 19 Oklahoma State. UT averaged a balanced 232.5 rushing yards (8th NCAA) and 206.6 passing yards in 2003 (No. 7 on the UT all-time list), marking just the fourth time in school history the Horns averaged better than 200 yards both rushing and passing. Texas also averaged 439.2 yards of offense (20th NCAA) while averaging 41.0 points per game (6th NCAA) in 2003. That came one year after UT averaged 250.1 passing yards, 385.6 yards of offense and 33.8 points per game (16th NCAA) in 2002. In '01, the Horns' high-powered offensive attack led the Big 12 in scoring (39.2 ppg/sixth NCAA) and pass efficiency (136.1 rating/27th NCAA). Brown's first UT squad produced a school-best 692 yards against Rice in 1998.

PRODUCTIVE PERFORMERS: Since Mack Brown and offensive coordinator Greg Davis took over UT's offense in 1998, Texas has produced its only 2,000-yard rusher (2,124, Ricky Williams, 1998), 1,000-yard receivers (1,087, Wane McGarity, 1999/1,188, Kwame Cavil, 1999/1,142, Roy Williams, 2002/1,079, Roy Williams, 2003) and 3,000-yard passers (3,357, Major Applewhite, 1999/3,207, Chris Simms, 2002) in a season in school history. UT has seen players record school single-season bests for rushing touchdowns (28, Ricky Williams, 1998), TD passes (26, Chris Simms, 2002), TD receptions (12, Roy Williams, 2002), total TDs (30, Chris Simms, 2002), receptions (100, Kwame Cavil, 1999), scoring

(168, Ricky Williams, 1998) and total offense (3,211, Major Applewhite, 1999). Cedric Benson became the fifth player in NCAA history to rush for over 1,000 yards in four straight seasons and finished his career ranked sixth on the NCAA all-time rushing list (5,540 yards). Vince

Mack Brown era in BOLD

Johnson, 2000), receiving yards (809, Roy Williams, 2000), TD catches (8, Roy Williams, 2000) and TD passes (18, Major Applewhite, 1998) have also been set during the Brown era.

DEFENSIVE DOMINANCE: After inheriting a program that ranked among the NCAA's bottom half in total defense for the previous five seasons, Mack Brown and the Longhorns staff have reversed that trend. Texas enters 2005 riding a streak of six straight years ranked among the nation's top 25 in total defense. Texas is coming off a season where it held its opponents to 320.1 yards (23rd NCAA) and 17.9 points per game (18th NCAA). The Horns also ranked 16th in rushing defense (107.4 ypg) in 2004. Texas ranked 25th nationally in total defense (329.8 ypg) and allowed just 21.1 points per game in 2003 and held its opponents to 307.7 yards (16th NCAA) and 16.3 points per game (8th NCAA) in 2002. UT was one of only two teams to post three shutouts against NCAA Division I-A opponents in 2002. The Longhorns defense went from ranking 85th nationally in total defense in 1997, the year prior to Brown's arrival, to back-to-back top 10 finishes in total defense in 1999-2000 and captured an NCAA statistical title in total defense in '01. UT's 236.2 yards per game allowed that season were the fewest it had allowed since 1983 (212.0 ypg). It marked the first time since '83 and the third time in school history that UT led the nation in total defense. Texas also led the Big 12 Conference in rushing (89.5 ypg/sixth NCAA), passing (146.7 ypg/third NCAA) and scoring defense (13.7 ppg/third NCAA) while establishing itself as one of only two defenses that ranked among the nation's top 10 in every major defensive category in 2001.

AIR DEFENSE: Texas' pass defense has been among the nation's premier units over the past five seasons, ranking among the top 10 in four of those campaigns. Texas has allowed its opponents to complete less than 45 percent (830-of-1,897) of its passes for 171.3 passing yards per game (10,791 in 63 games) while intercepting 82 passes (1.3 pg) over the last five seasons.

The Horns intercepted 13 passes and ranked 31st nationally in pass efficiency defense (114.3 rating) last year. Texas allowed opponents to complete just 167-of-364 passes (45.9%/third-best nationally) for 2,305 yards (177.3 ypg/9th NCAA) and ranked 18th nationally in pass efficiency defense (106.5 rating) in 2003. UT's recent pass defense efforts continue a turnaround that started when Mack Brown took over the Longhorns program in 1998. That year, UT was coming off a season that saw it rank 75th nationally in pass efficiency defense (132.7 rating). In just their third season (2000), they guided UT back among the national leaders in directing a pass defense that led the nation in pass efficiency (88.3 rating). The Horns limited opponents to the second-lowest completion percentage in the nation (45.2%/171-of-378), 184.3 yards per game, 5.36 yards per pass attempt (second-lowest in the nation), while allowing just eight TD passes that season. The Horns put up comparable numbers in 2001, holding a schedule that featured several high-powered passing attacks to a Big 12-low 146.7 passing yards per game (third NCAA) and ranked fourth nationally in pass efficiency defense (88.0). Texas held its opponents to an NCAA-low 4.77 yards per attempt and just six TDs (tied for the second-fewest nationally) in 2001. In 2002, Texas allowed opponents to complete just 192-of-400 passes (48.0%) for 2,147 yards (165.2 pg/eighth NCAA).

UT also ranked seventh nationally in pass efficiency defense (96.1 rating) and allowed just nine passes of more than 30 yards. Texas' 22 interceptions were tied for the fourth-most nationally, its 22 picks in 400 opponent pass attempts (one every 18.2 attempts) was tied for the third-best ratio in the nation (5.5%) and the opposition's average of just 5.37 yards per pass attempt was the third-lowest in the nation. UT ranked 92nd nationally in pass efficiency defense (138.7 rating) in 1998 and improved to 12th in 1999 (101.6 rating).

GROUND PATROL: Mack Brown and his staff inherited a ground defense that had ranked no better than 64th nationally in the five seasons prior to their arrival and have turned that around dramatically over the last seven seasons. The Horns have limited 22 of their last 49 opponents to less than 100 yards rushing and allowed just 17 100-yard rushers in the last 75 games. UT has held opponents to just 124.0 rushing yards per game (6,199 yards on 1,805 carries) and 3.4 yards per carry the past four seasons. The Horns ranked 16th nationally in rushing defense (107.4 ypg), including allowing just 60.0 yards per game over the final six contests, in 2004. UT held six foes to 70 yards rushing or fewer last season. Although UT ranked 58th nationally in rushing defense (152.5 ypg) in 2003, the Horns allowed only 121.3 yards per game over the season's final seven contests. After inheriting a unit that ranked 104th nationally and allowed 241.5 yards per game in 1997, Brown and company guided the Horns to the nation's 17th-best run defense (105.7 ypg) in 1999 and the 12th-best ground defense (94.0 ypg) in 2000. UT's 94.0 yards allowed rushing per game in 2000 was, at the time, the fewest allowed by a Longhorns squad since 1977 (91.1 ypg). UT followed that effort up in 2001 by allowing a Big 12-low 89.5 rushing yards per game (sixth NCAA) and just 2.8 yards per carry. The 89.5 rushing yards per game was the Horns' best effort since limiting foes to 84.4 rushing yards per game in 1964. Injuries on the defensive front wreaked havoc on the Horns' run defense in a few games in 2002, but when healthy, it was very effective in limiting six of its opponents to less than 100 yards rushing. UT allowed 142.5 rushing yards per game (47th NCAA) on the year.

SHORT DRIVES: The Texas defense has prevented its opponents from moving the chains on 37.3 percent of their drives over the past four seasons. During that time, UT has forced 248 three-and-outs in 665 possessions. The Horns held foes to three-and-outs or better on 46 of 153 possessions (30.7%) last season. Texas forced 56 three-and-outs on 181 possessions (30.9%) in 2003. In 176 possessions in 2002, Longhorns foes were forced to give the ball up in three plays or less on 73 occasions (41.4%). That came one year after the Longhorns forced 73 three-and-outs in 165 drives (44.2%) in 2001.

FORCING TURNOVERS: Texas' aggressive defense has forced 204 turnovers over the past seven seasons (89 games/2.3 per game). The Horns had a plus-five turnover margin, forcing 23 turnovers and losing 18 last season. UT forced 29 turnovers (15 interceptions/14 fumble recoveries) in 2003. The 29 turnovers were tied for 21st-best nationally, while the 14 fumble recoveries were tied for 23rd, in 2003. UT's attacking unit provided several big plays in forcing 35 turnovers (T-12th NCAA) in 2002. The Longhorns combined for 22 interceptions (T-No. 4 NCAA) by eight different players and also recovered 13 fumbles that year.

LONGHORN RETURNEES: The Longhorns return seven starters on offense, nine on defense and its starting punter, as well as 46 lettermen (18 offense/24 defense/3 special teams) from their 2005 Rose Bowl Championship team. Among its returning offensive/defensive starters, UT welcomes back 16 starters that have combined for 328 career starts (139 offense/189 defense). When you add in five other returning veterans who have combined to start 17 career games (13 offense/4 defense), Texas' 2005 squad features 21 returnees with starting experience on offense or defense. That group has combined to start 345 career games (152 offense/193 defense).

BIG SHOES TO FILL: Texas heads into 2005 without the services of 19 seniors from last year's 11-1 team. That group posted a 43-8 (84.3%) overall record and 27-5 (84.3%) mark in regular season Big 12 games. The 43 wins set a new four-year UT victory record (since freshmen became eligible in 1972) set previously by the 2003 senior class (41-10). UT's group of departing seniors included 10 players who started at least one game. That group posted four straight 10 (or more victory) seasons, including a school-record-tying 11 wins in back-to-back seasons in 2001 and '02, for the first time in school history. Among the senior class that led the 2004 squad to a No. 5 national ranking were six starters on offense and defense as well as its starting placekicker — RB Cedric Benson (43 starts/2004 Doak Walker Award winner and first-team All-American), FS Phillip Geiggar (22 starts/two-time second-team All-Big 12), C Jason Glynn (38 starts/three-time second-team Academic All-District), WR Tony Jeffery (12 starts), LB Derrick Johnson (40 starts/2004 Nagurski and Butkus Award winner/two-time consensus first-team All-American), PK Dusty Mangum (four-year starter/three-time honorable mention All-Big 12). RB Will Matthews (two-year starter), TE Bo Scaife (17 starts/2004 first-team All-Big 12) split time as a starter last season. Also gone from the 2004 senior class are experienced squadmen OG Trey Bates, DT Stevie Lee (3 starts), QB Chance Mock (6 starts), DE Aurmon Satchell, and LB Stevie Stigall.

DEPARTED STARTERS: Texas enters 2005 seeking to replace a combined six starters on offense (4) and defense (2). The group of offensive and defensive players started a combined 177 career games (115 offense/62 defense). When you add in two other part-time offensive and defensive starters that exhausted their eligibility in 2004, the Longhorns enter '05 without the services of eight former starters who combined to start 186 contests (121 offense/65 defense).

OFFENSIVE RETURNEES: Texas returns seven starters, six of which earned all-conference mention last season, from an offense that ranked second nationally in rushing (299.2 ypg), seventh in total offense (464.4 ypg) and 12th in scoring (35.3 ppg). The Horns 5,573 yards of offense rank second only to the 5,709 they produced in 2003. It's 3,590 rushing yards were the third-most on school record and the most since the 1970 squad set the UT mark in 1970 (3,745). UT's 464.4 yards per game of offense rank fourth on the school's all-time list. Back from the offenses starting lineup are senior G Will Allen (19 starts/honorable mention All-Big 12), junior OT Justin Blalock (25 starts/first-team All-Big 12), senior OT Jonathan Scott (32 starts/honorable mention All-American/first-team All-Big 12), junior G Kasey Studdard (12 starts/honorable mention All-Big 12), sophomore WR Limas Sweed (7 starts), senior TE David Thomas (25 starts/first-team All-Big 12) and junior QB Vince Young (19 starts/Rose Bowl MVP/second-team All-Big 12). Senior WR Brian Carter (3 starts), senior G Mike Garcia (6 starts) and sophomore WR Nate Jones (4 starts) all return with starting experience.

FIVE KEY OFFENSIVE STARTERS NEED TO BE REPLACED: Texas will look to replace five veterans on offense, four of which earned all-conference mention last season, that helped produce three of the top four scoring campaigns and four of the top seven total offense seasons on UT record the past four years. The five standouts combined to start 115 career games. RB Cedric Benson, a 2004 first-team All-American and the Doak Walker Award winner (nation's top RB) who finished his career ranked sixth in NCAA history in rushing yards (5,540) and third in rushing TDs (64), heads the list. Texas also will be without the services of two starters that paved the way for Benson in FB Will Matthews and C Jason Glynn. Matthews, a 2004 honorable mention All-Big 12 pick, was a two-year starter and Glynn, a two-time Academic All-District choice, started the final 38 games of his career. Depending on the formation the Longhorns started in, TE Bo Scaife shared the starting duties with Matthews in 2004. Scaife earned first-team All-Big 12 honors after catching 26 passes for 348 yards and two TDs as a senior. He finished his career ranked second on the UT all-time receptions by a TE list (75) and third among TEs in UT history with 997 receiving yards. WR Tony Jeffery led the Horns with 33 catches for 437 yards and three TDs in 2004. When you add in valuable veteran QB Chance Mock, the Longhorns' starter for the first six games of 2003, UT will be without the services of seven players who combined to start 121 career contests.

SELVIN YOUNG LEADS RETURNING RUSHERS: With the graduation of the second-leading rusher in UT history and the sixth-best in NCAA history, Cedric Benson, Texas will be seeking to replace a back that rushed for 5,540 yards (No. 6 in NCAA history) and 64 TDs (third in NCAA history) over the last four years. Benson also became just the fifth player in NCAA history to rush for 1,000 yards in four consecutive seasons during that time. The top returning candidate to fill the void is junior Selvin Young, who missed the last 10 games of 2004 with a broken ankle and was limited due to injury in 2003. Young, also UT's top kick and punt returner, has rushed for 661 yards and 10 TDs in 26 career games. He has 1,622 career all-purpose yards (8.9 yards per play). With Young sidelined last spring, the Horns focused on the development of versatile sophomore Ramonce Taylor. Taylor, who joined only teammate Vince Young and USC's Reggie Bush in registering a rush, pass and reception of 40 or more yards last season, rushed for 283 yards and a TD on just 27 carries (10.5 ypc) as a true freshman. He will work at several different positions, as well as kickoff returns in 2005. True freshmen Jamaal Charles and Henry Melton had strong preseason camps and are expected to see immediate action. Charles is a Parade All-America selection and a two-time first-team 5A all-state back who rushed for 4,107 yards and 50 TDs in his last two high school seasons. Melton was a second-team All-USA selection by USA Today and gained over 800 yards and scored eight TDs as a prep senior.

FULLBACKS TOO: Texas spent the spring and preseason auditioning for the starting fullback position. Gone is two-year starter Will Matthews who developed into one of the nation's top performers at the position and played a key role in Benson's rush to the 2004 Doak Walker Award. Also gone is promising veteran Albert Hardy who was forced to give up football after the 2004 season as a result of a series of injuries. Junior Ahmard Hall, a walk-on who joined the Longhorns in 2003 after serving in the Marines, enters the fall season as the starter. He played primarily on special teams last season. True freshman Michael Houston and redshirt freshman Chris Ogbonnaya, both of whom have worked at tailback, enter the season as backups.

OLDER YOUNG: Entering his junior year with a 17-2 record (No. 9 on the UT all-time QB victory chart), Vince Young has steadily developed into one of the nation's premier offensive players. He has been listed on the 2005 Maxwell Award (nation's top player) and Davey O'Brien Award (nation's top QB) watch lists. The 2005 Rose Bowl MVP is coming off of a season where he threw for 1,849 yards and 12 TDs and became the first player in UT history to register 1,000 yards both passing (1,849) and rushing (1,079). He also rushed for a UT QB record 14 TDs. Young capped the year with a spectacular 192 yards rushing (No. 1 on UT's single-game QB rushing list) and four TDs, as well as completing 16-of-28 passes for 180 yards and a TD in leading the Horns to a Rose Bowl victory. The first QB in UT history to rush and pass for 1,000 yards in a season and rush and pass for 2,000 yards in a career, Young already ranks eighth on the UT all-time passing yardage list (3,004) and ninth in TD passes (18). His 5,081 yards of total offense rank eighth on the UT all-time list and his 2,077 rushing yards rank 14th all-time. Young's 25 career TDs are the second-most ever by a UT QB. He also has completed 59% of his passes (232-of-393) which is the best pass completion percentage for a UT QB through their first two seasons. Texas enters the season without the services of reliable backup Chance Mock, who started six games in 2003. Mock threw for 1,613 yards and 17 TDs in 28 career games. After three seasons as the Horns third-string signal caller, senior Matt Nordgren enters the season as UT's top backup. A bright fourth-year player who completed his undergraduate degree last year, Nordgren has completed 2-of-3 passes for 13 yards in seven career games. True freshman Colt McCoy is a promising young player, who will continue to compete for playing time.

GRAND SLAM: At Texas Tech and again versus No. 13 Michigan in the Rose Bowl, Vince Young became the first QB in UT history to rush for at least four TDs in a game.

SOPHOMORE SENSATION: On the heels of a tremendous freshman campaign, Vince Young continued to step up as a sophomore in 2004, averaging 350 yards of offense (219.5 passing) over his final four games of the season. Capped by his 16-of-28 for 180 yards and a TD to go with 192 yards and four TDs rushing against Michigan in the Rose Bowl, Young completed 148-of-250 passes (59.2%) for 1,849 yards and 12 TDs in 2004. His 59.2% completion accuracy was the best ever by a UT sophomore QB. He also became the first UT QB to rush for 1,000 yards (1,079) and ran for a UT QB record 14 TDs on 167 carries. Young tallied 2,928 yards of total offense (244.0 pg/32nd NCAA) and accounted for 26 TDs. Along with his spectacular numbers in a Rose Bowl MVP effort, Young also produced 300 yards of total offense en route to Big 12 Player of the Week honors in a victory at Texas Tech.

HEATING UP: Junior quarterback Vince Young took his game to a new level over the final six games of the 2004 season, all UT victories. Starting with the Texas Tech game on Oct. 25, Young went 86-of-137 (62.8%) for 1,091 yards through the air, while posting an additional 748 yards on the ground. He also accounted for 17 TDs (13 rushing/4 passing). The stretch included three games of at least 180 yards passing and four 100-yard rushing games. He led Texas to points on 38-of-71 drives (53.5%), 29 of which went for TDs during that stretch.

COMEBACK KID: Junior quarterback Vince Young has led Texas to come-from-behind victories when the Horns were tied or trailed at halftime on six occasions and directed four fourth-quarter comebacks during his career. Young has directed game-winning drives on the Horns final series in two of his last three games. He began as a redshirt freshman in 2003, while splitting time with Chance Mock, when he scored on a QB sneak with 5:19 left in the game giving No. 13 Texas a 24-20 victory over No. 16 Kansas State. Five games later, he led Texas to 41 unanswered points against Oklahoma State after the Horns trailed 16-14 at halftime, giving Texas a 55-16 victory. Then, in 2004, the seventh-ranked Horns trailed Arkansas, 17-16, at the half, before ending up with a 22-20 victory in Fayetteville. He capped the 2004 season by pulling out four consecutive victories in the second half. The streak started with what ended up being the greatest comeback in Texas history. The sixth-ranked Longhorns trailed No. 19 Oklahoma State 35-7 with 1:21 left in the first half. From that point, Young led Texas on eight consecutive touchdown drives as the Horns scored 49 unanswered points to win 56-35. In the next game at Kansas, the Horns trailed 23-13 with 7:41 to play in the game. Young led Texas on a 13-play, 87-yard TD drive to bring the score to 23-20 with 4:12 to play. After the Texas defense held, the Horns got the ball on the KU 47 with 1:53 to play. Following a sack and two incomplete passes, Texas faced 4th-and-18, but Young scrambled for 22 yards and a first down. Four plays later, he connected with Tony Jeffery for a 21-yard TD to make the score 27-23 with 11 seconds remaining. Next up, Texas hosted Texas A&M and trailed 13-6 at halftime before putting up 20 unanswered points on their way to a 26-13 victory. Young culminated his 2004 comeback run when Texas faced Michigan in a Rose Bowl that saw four lead changes and three ties. With the game tied at 14 at half-time, Young raced 60 yards to put the Longhorns up 21-14. But, Michigan came back to score the next 17 points to take a 31-21 lead with 2:35 left in the third quarter. The fourth quarter twice saw a Young TD followed by a FG from Michigan's Garrett Rivas giving Michigan the lead 37-35 with 3:04 remaining. On the Horns final drive, Young moved Texas from their own 34 to the Michigan 19 setting up Dusty Mangum's 37-yard field goal, which gave Texas the 38-37 victory.

BACK-TO-BACK: Vince Young turned in one of the most productive two-game stretches in UT history last season versus No. 19 Oklahoma State and at Kansas. During that time, Young became the first player on UT record to register two career 400-yard total offense games, recorded his first career back-to-back 200-yard passing games and became the first UT QB since Marty Akins in 1975 (at Washington/vs. Texas Tech) to rush for 100 yards in consecutive games. His 804 yards of total offense over the last two games is the most in a two-game stretch on UT record. He also completed 40-of-61 passes (65.6%) for 567 yards and two TDs while rushing for 237 yards and two TDs on 31 carries (7.7 ypc). Young completed a UT record 14 straight passes, eclipsing Chris Simms' school mark of 11 in a row in 2001, at the end of the game against Oklahoma State and the beginning of Kansas. He generated 804 yards of offense on 71 plays (40 completions/31 rushes) for an average of 11.3 yards per play. Young passed for a then career-high 278 yards and rushed for 123 yards in generating 401 yards of total offense (No. 4 on the UT all-time single-game list) and set a UT passing accuracy record by completing 18-of-21 passes (85.7%) in a 56-35 win over No. 19 Oklahoma State. He followed that up by throwing for a career-high 289 yards, rush-

PASSING FANCY: Vince Young put on a passing display in the Longhorns 56-35 win over No. 19 Oklahoma State last season. Young completed 18-of-21 passes for 278 yards in the game. His completion percentage of 85.7% eclipsed James Brown's UT record of 81.5% (minimum of 20 passes) on 22-of-27 passes against Houston in 1994. Young closed out the game by completing his final 12 passes, eclipsing the UT record of 11 straight completions set by Chris Simms in 2001. He extended that streak to 14 in his first two passes at Kansas. In leading Texas to its biggest comeback ever (overcoming a 28 point deficit), Young completed 19 of his final 20 passes for 222 yards in just over two quarters as he led the Horns on seven straight scoring drives to overcome a 35-7 Cowboy lead. At Kansas, Young led another comeback by passing for 289 yards, including the game-winning 21-yard TD with 11 seconds left. He completed his last six passes (for 87 yards) in leading the come-from-behind win in the Rose Bowl.

CAREER NUMBERS: Young, who is 17-2 (89.5%) as a starter (T-No. 9 on UT's QB victories list), has completed 232-of-393 passes (59.0%) for 3,004 yards (No. 8 on UT's all-time list) and 18 TDs (T-No. 8 on UT's all-time list) while rushing for 2,077 yards (No. 14 on UT's all-time list/tops among QBs) and 25 TDs (No. 2 on UT's career rushing TDs by a QB list) on 302 carries (6.9 ypc) in 24 games.

ACCURATE ARM: Vince Young has completed 59.0% (232-of-393) of his passes in two seasons at Texas. That is by far the best on record of any QB through their first two seasons at UT. The previous best was Peter Gardere, who completed 56.8% (266-of-468) of his passes as a freshman and sophomore in 1989-90. Chris Simms (1999-2000) was third at 56.2% (86-of-153). Young's 58.7% completion percentage in 2003 was the second-best of any freshman in UT history (trailing James Brown's record 69.6% in 1994) while his 59.2% completion rate in 2004 was tops among Longhorn sophomore QBs (bettering Chris Simms' mark of 57.3% in 2000).

BIG 12 FRESHMAN OF THE YEAR:

Vince Young produced a spectacular first season at Texas where he earned Big 12 Freshman of the Year honors. His 998 rushing yards (No. 2 on the UT freshman list) were the most-ever by a Longhorn freshman QB, while his 1,155 passing yards rank fifth on the UT freshman list. Young's 2,153 yards of total offense ranked third on the Longhorn's freshman chart. His three 100-yard rushing games were the most-ever by a UT freshman QB and were tied with Ricky Williams (1995) for third place on the school's freshman list. Young's 11 rushing TDs were the most-ever by a UT freshman QB and ranked second on the Longhorns' freshman list. The 11 TDs also rank second on Texas' freshman total TDs scored list. His 68 points, including a two-point PAT, on the year rank fifth on Texas' freshman list (first among QBs). The former prep Parade All-American, who was 6-1 as a starter in 2003, ranked 49th nationally (third among QBs) in rushing (83.2 ypg). His 17 TDs responsible for were second-most national among freshman QBs.

FAST FEET: Vince Young averaged 6.5 yards per carry in 2004 and is netting 6.9 yards per run for his career. He has recorded five career runs of 59 or more yards. Young's 7.4 yards per carry in 2003 was the highest among the nation's top 100 rushers and he posted Texas' four longest runs of the season that year. He has already recorded 26 career runs of 20 or more yards (2004: 60, 24 and 23 vs. Michigan; 21 vs. Texas A&M; 22 at Kansas; 42 vs. Oklahoma State; 27 vs. Oklahoma State; 22 at Texas Tech; 23 vs. Missouri; 23 vs. Oklahoma; 47 vs. Baylor; 22 vs. Rice; 33 vs. North Texas; 2003: 20 vs. Washington State; 21 at Texas A&M; 23 at Oklahoma State; 65 vs. Nebraska; 64 at Baylor; 59 and 27 vs. Oklahoma; 30 vs. Kansas State; 60 vs. Tulane; 20 and 22 at Rice and 23 vs. NMSU). Young has 40 rushes of at least 15 yards (2004: 15 vs. Texas A&M; 18 at Kansas; 16 at Kansas; 15 vs. Oklahoma State; 18 at Colorado; 18 at Colorado; 18 vs. Rice; 19 vs. North Texas; 2003: 18 at Texas A&M; 19 vs. Texas Tech; 19 at Oklahoma State; 17 vs. Nebraska; 15 at Iowa State; 17 at Baylor; 16t vs. NMSU). He has turned in six of the top 11 runs by a QB in UT history. His 65-yarder versus Nebraska in 2003 was the second-longest (record: 74t, Bret Stafford vs. Stanford, 1985), while his 64-yarder at Baylor that year ranks third. Young turned in the fifth-longest run by a QB in UT history when he dashed 60 yards against Tulane (2003) and again versus Michigan in the Rose Bowl (2004). His 59-yard run vs. Oklahoma (2003) ranks seventh. He added a 47-yard run versus Baylor in 2004 for the 11th-longest run. Young's 32 runs of 10 or more yards in 2003 were the second-most on the team, trailing only Cedric Benson (36).

DRIVER'S TEST: In 210 career drives, Vince Young has led UT to 90 TDs and 17 field goals (107 scores). That equates to the Longhorns scoring on 51.0% of Young's possessions, with 42.9% of his drives resulting in TDs. Young's 51.0% success rate is the best of any UT QB since that statistic was first included in the Longhorns stats in 1993. He has led Texas to an average of 3.2 points per drive.

DOUBLE TROUBLE: Vince Young has now pulled off a rare feat in UT history, rushing and passing for 100 yards in the same game five times. When he did so in 2003 versus No. 1 Oklahoma, it established him as just the fourth player in UT history to register that double. He ran for 127 yards (most-ever by a UT freshman QB/T-12th-best rushing total ever by a UT QB/No. 13 on the UT single-game freshman rushing list) and completed 11-of-21 passes for 135 yards in that game. Against Texas Tech last season, he became the first to do it twice, rushing for 158 yards (No. 5 on UT's single-game list by a QB) and passing for 142 yards on 10-of-15 attempts. He added a third time versus No. 19 Oklahoma State by rushing for 123 yards and passing for 278 on 18-of-21 attempts. His 401 yards of total offense are the fourth-highest total in UT history. He then became the first player in UT history to record 400-plus yards of total offense in back-to-back games when he threw for 289 yards and ran for 114 at Kansas. The 403 yards of total offense is the third-most in UT history. Young registered a UT QB record 192 yards rushing to go with 180 yards passing in Texas' 38-37 win over Michigan in the Rose Bowl. He also came up just short of the double in victories at Oklahoma State (92 rushing/195 passing) and at Texas A&M (90 rushing/97 passing) in 2003. The other UT QBs to accomplish the double 100s were: Donnie Little (119 rushing/215 passing vs. TCU, 1980), Eddie Phillips (164 rushing/199 passing vs. Notre Dame, 1971 Cotton Bowl) and James Street (108 rushing/100 passing vs. Baylor, 1968).

EXPERIENCED O-LINE: The Longhorns' have one big void to fill on an offensive line that has been rated as the nation's best entering 2005. UT's line returns four starters and four other veterans who have seen significant action. Gone from the unit that paved the way for Texas to rank second nationally in rushing (299.2 ypg), 12th in scoring (35.3 ppg) and seventh in total offense (464.4 ypg) is C Jason Glynn, a starter in his final 38 career games. Among the returnees are four starters, three of which earned All-Big 12 recognition a year ago when Texas produced its most rushing yards (3,590) since 1977. The returning starters are senior RG Will Allen (19 career starts/2004 honorable mention All-Big 12), RT Justin Blalock (25 straight starts/2004 first-team All-Big 12), LT Jonathan Scott (31 career starts/second-team All-American) and junior LG Kasey Studdard (11 starts in 2004). Scott, a preseason first-team All-American, is a member of the Outland Trophy (nation's top interior lineman) and Lombardi Award (nation's top lineman) watch list. With Scott as the anchor, the group has combined to start 86 career games. Texas also returns senior Mike Garcia, who has five career starts as Allen's backup, as well as three of the other four top backups from a year ago. Junior C Lyle Sendlein, Glynn's backup for the past two seasons who has played in 23 career games at either center or guard, enters the spring as the lone new starter. Senior RT William Winston and sophomore LT Tony Hills return as experienced backups at tackle. Veterans senior C Brett Valdez, who will work at center the spring after spending his first three years at guard, as well as redshirt freshmen G Cedric Dockery, T Greg Dolan and true freshman Adam Ulatoski will all compete for playing time in the spring. Redshirt freshman Dallas Griffin missed the spring season while recovering from a knee injury but will return to compete for action at center.

The dynamic duo of Thomas and Scaife combined to catch 51 passes for 778 yards and seven TDs last season. Thomas is a versatile athlete who has lined up at tight end, H-back, slot receiver and wideout during his career. He has posted three of the top nine longest receptions by a TE in UT history. Thomas registered 25 catches for 430 yards and five TDs (T-No. 3 on UT's all-time TE list) last season and ranks among the Top six on the UT all-time TE receiving lists in TD receptions (10/T-2nd), receiving yards (754/6th) and receptions (48/6th). There is plenty of talent in place to compete for Scaife's spot, led by junior Neale Tweedie, who will work exclusively at tight end this season after serving double-duty as a tight end/defensive end last season and as a tight end/offensive tackle in 2003. Sophomore Steven Hogan, redshirt freshman Peter Ullman and true freshman Jermichael Finley will compete for time, as well.

DT-4: Junior TE David Thomas is a versatile player the Longhorns use in multiple positions. In 2004, Thomas was shifted from tight end to fullback to H-back to slot receiver and even split wide, providing the Longhorns with a number of different options. Thomas has recorded 48 catches (No. 6 on the UT all-time TE list) for 754 yards (No. 6 on the UT all-time TE list) and 10 TDs (T-No. 2 on the UT all-time TE list) in 38 games (25 starts), including 25 receptions for 430 yards in 2004 en route to first-team All-Big 12 honors. His 60-yard TD catch at A&M in 2003 is the fifth-longest reception by a TE in UT history. In 2004, he added a 49-yard TD reception at Arkansas and matched that against Rice, marking the ninth-longest reception by a TE in school history. Thomas also recorded a 36-yard grab in the 2004 opener versus UNT. He has registered five career catches of at least 30 yards and three of the 10 longest receptions by a TE in UT history. In 2003, he grabbed 14 passes for 219 yards and three TDs.

DT = DEEP THREAT:

David Thomas is one of the nation's most explosive tight ends. In three seasons at Texas, Thomas has averaged 15.7 yards per catch (48 receptions for 754 yards) and 10 of his 48 career receptions have gone for TDs (4.8-to-1 reception-to-TD ratio). He is averaging 24.0 yards per TD reception (10-240) and his last seven TD grabs have covered an average of 33.4 yards (234). Thomas has recorded three of the 10 longest pass receptions by a tight end in UT history. In 2004, Thomas had a great year in the big-play column. He caught 25 passes for 430 yards and a team-high five TDs. His 17.2 yards per reception also was tops on the team. He hauled in a 36-yard catch against UNT and turned in 49-yard TD grabs at Arkansas and versus Rice (No. 9 on the UT all-time list). His 61-yard TD catch at Texas A&M in 2003 is tied for the fourth-longest reception by a TE in UT history.

ROOKIE RECEIVERS: For the second season in a row, Texas' wide receiver unit will start the year without its top pass catcher from the previous season. Gone is Tony Jeffery who caught 33 passes for 437 yards and three TDs in 2004. There is plenty of talent returning with the most productive returnee being sophomore Limas Sweed. A starter in seven games, Sweed hauled in 23 receptions (No. 3 on the UT all-time freshman list) for 263 yards as a redshirt freshman. Also back with game experience is sophomore Nate Jones, who had seven receptions for 73 yards and started five games as a true freshman, and senior Brian Carter (three starts in 2004). Two other talented young receivers are returning to action after missing last season with injuries in redshirt freshman Jordan Shipley and sophomore Billy Pittman. True freshman Quan Cosby also is expected to have an impact.

DEFENSIVE RETURNEES: The Longhorns return nine starters from a defense that ranked among the nation's leaders again in 2004. Texas ranked 23rd in total defense (320.1 ypg), 16th in rushing defense (107.4 ypg) and 18th in scoring defense (17.9 ppg). Back from that defense are junior CB Tarell Brown (12 starts), junior DE Tim Crowder (honorable mention All-Big 12/21 starts), senior DT Larry Dibbles (first-team All-Big 12/11 starts), senior CB Cedric Griffin (honorable mention All-Big 12/31 starts), senior LB Aaron Harris (second-team All-Big 12/18 starts), senior LB Eric Hall (12 starts), senior SS Michael Huff (honorable mention All-America/37 starts/UT record four career interception returns for TDs), junior DE Brian Robison (honorable mention All-Big 12/14 starts) and senior DT Rodrigue Wright (second-team All-American/32 starts). The Longhorns also welcome back a pair of veterans on defense with starting experience in junior S Michael Griffin (three starts), and sophomore DT Frank Okam (first-team Freshman All-America/1 start).

UT SEEKS TO REPLACE TWO DEFENSIVE STARTERS:

The Longhorns will need to replace two experienced starters on defense to continue its current string of finishing among the nation's top 25 in total defense for six straight years. UT's pair of departed defensive starters combined to start 70 games over the past four seasons. One of the losses is among the most decorated players in Longhorn history in LB Derrick Johnson, a two-time consensus first-team All-American, three-time first-team All-Big 12 pick and the 2004 Butkus Award winner (nation's top LB), Nagurski Award winner (nation's top defensive player) and Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year. A two-time finalist for the Butkus Award, he was the first UT linebacker since Tommy Nobis in 1964-65 to earn first-team All-America honors twice and the first ever to be a two-time consensus first-team All-American. Johnson finished his career with a school record 65 tackles for loss, 458 tackles (No. 3 on the UT all-time list), 10 forced fumbles (No. 5 on the UT all-time chart) and a UT record for LBs nine interceptions. He registered 130 tackles, 19 TFLs, 10 QB pressures and a UT and NCAA single-season record nine forced fumbles in 2004. Also gone is FS Phillip Geiggar, who started 30 career games and earned second-team All-Big 12 honors last season.

VETERAN D-LINE: Texas returns all four starters from a defensive line that has been rated as the nation's best entering 2005. All totalled, DTs Rodrigue Wright team, and Texas has been represented each year. Okam joined OT Justin Blalock (2003), DT Rodrique Wright (2002), LB Derrick Johnson (2001) and PK Dusty Mangum (2001) as Longhorns having earned the honor.

ON THE EDGE: Texas returning starting tackle tandem will be flanked by a pair of returning starters at end in juniors Tim Crowder and Brian Robison. A third-team freshman All-American as a true freshman in 2003, Crowder continued his progress in 2004, earning honorable mention All-Big 12 honors. Crowder earned a spot on the Hendricks Award (nation's top DE) watch list entering 2005. He posted 47 tackles, 10 TFLs and team highs of 4.5 sacks and 22 pressures on the season. He has played in 25 career games (21 starts) and posted 82 tackles, 13 TFLs, 5.5 sacks and 36 pressures. Joining Crowder as a returnee to the starting lineup is Robison, who earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors after moving from linebacker to end last spring. He led all UT defensive linemen with 14 TFLs and also recorded 48 tackles, 1.5 sacks and 18 pressures in 2004. His interception return for a TD against Missouri last season helped the Horns secure a 28-20 win. Robison, who played in 13 games and started three at middle linebacker in 2003, has registered 86 tackles, 18 TFLs, 1.5 sacks and 24 pressures in 25 career games (15 starts). Redshirt freshman Brian Orakpo, who is coming off a tremendous spring and preseason after redshirting in 2004, and true freshman Chris Brown are promising pass rushers that enter the year as the top backups.

HARRIS LEADS LINEBACKERS:

Texas will be looking to fill its biggest loss on defense at the linebacker position with WLB Derrick Johnson completing his eligibility. Johnson posted team bests of 130 tackles and 19 TFLs as well as a UT and NCAA record nine forced fumbles en route to National Defensive Player of the Year honors last season. The two-time consensus first-team All-American started 40 career games and registered 458 tackles (No. 3 on the UT all-time list) and a UT record 65 tackles for loss during his career. Texas returns its other two starters at linebacker in second-team All-Big 12 MLB Aaron Harris and SLB Eric Hall. Harris was Texas' second leading tackler with 118 stops in 2004. He also had two sacks, 10 TFLs, six pressures, nine pass breakups and a pair of forced fumbles on the year. Harris capped off a stellar junior season with a team-high nine tackles in the Longhorns Rose Bowl victory over Michigan. He has played in 38 career games (18 starts) and posted 191 tackles, 15 TFLs, 20 pressures, 11 PBUs and five forced fumbles. Hall started all 12 games at strongside LB in 2004, will start the spring competing for the starting weakside spot vacated by Johnson. A former full-back who also has worked at defensive end, Hall turned in 41 tackles, four TFLs, one sack and four pressures last year. Another returnee with game experience, sophomore Robert Killebrew, enters the year as Harris' top backup in the middle. Killebrew, Johnson's top backup at WLB last year, played in 11 games and recorded 15 tackles and two pressures as a redshirt freshman. Sophomore Drew Kelson, who saw action at safety in 2004 is a speedy, hard-hitting defender who is competing with Hall for SLB. Redshirt freshman Rashad Bobino is an explosive young defender who enters the year as the starting WLB. He is backed up by classmate Jeremy Campbell.

MANNING THE MIDDLE: Senior Aaron Harris, a member of the 2005 Bednarik Award (nation's top defensive player) and Lombardi Award (nation's top lineman) watch lists and a candidate for the Butkus Award (nation's top LB), is coming off of a tremendous junior season. The second-team All-Big 12 pick ranked second only to Derrick Johnson on the squad with 118 tackles (65 solo). His 10 TFLs were third-best on the team and he added two sacks, six pressures, one interception, nine PBUs and two forced fumbles. He capped the year with nine tackles, a sack, one TFL and two PBUs in the Horns Rose Bowl victory over Michigan. In six games versus Top 25-ranked opponents last year, Harris registered 67 tackles (11 per game), two sacks, six TFLs and three PBUs. He had a season high 18 tackles against No. 2 Oklahoma. Over the last two seasons, Harris has tallied 178 tackles, 5.5 sacks, 16 TFLs, 20 pressures, 11 PBUs and four forced fumbles.

HORNS RETURN THREE STARTERS IN SECONDARY:

Texas returns three of its four starters from a talented defensive backfield. The lone loss is FS Phillip Geiggar, a second-team All-Big 12 pick in 2004 who played in 48 career games (22 starts). Led by fourth-year starter SS Michael Huff, who passed on leaving for the NFL early to return for his senior season, the Horns three returning starters have combined to start 80 career games. Huff (37 starts) is joined by senior CB Cedric Griffin (31 starts), a fourth-year starter and 2004 honorable mention All-Big 12 selection, and junior CB Tarell Brown (12 starts) as returning starters in the secondary. CB Aaron Ross is competing with Brown for action. All totalled, UT returns 11 defensive backs with experience.

SAFETY IN NUMBERS: An honorable mention All-America and first-team All-Big 12 pick in 2004, senior SS Michael Huff leads a deep safety unit that returns seven of the eight players that saw game action a year ago. Huff, who is versatile enough to play all four defensive back positions, registered 73 tackles, two interceptions and a team-high 14 PBUs as a junior. He has played in 38 career games (37 starts) and posted 209 tackles, 16 TFLs, 30 PBUs, two caused fumbles and blocked a pair of kicks. Huff averages 25.2 yards per interception return and has returned four of his six career picks for TDs. The four career INT returns for TDs is a UT record and one short of the NCAA career mark. Fourth-year junior Matt Melton is Huff's top backup at SS. He battled injuries as a sophomore, missing four of the final five games, but has played in 21 career games and posted 17 tackles, three PBUs and returned a fumble for a TD. Junior Michael Griffin, who has been Huff's top backup at SS the past two years, enters the season as the starter at free safety. Griffin played in all 12 games (one start) and posted 49 tackles, two TFLs, one sack, three PBUs, one fumble recovery, a caused fumble and two blocked kicks as a sophomore. He has 114 tackles, three sacks, seven TFLs, one interception, five PBUs, four forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries in 24 career games (three starts). Michael's twin brother Marcus is the top backup at free safety. Marcus, who after working as a walk-on for two seasons was awarded a scholarship in the preseason, ranked third on the team with seven special teams tackles in 2004.

ON THE CORNER: Senior Cedric Griffin is a fourth-year starter who heads up a crew of cornerbacks that returns both of its starters and its top two backups in 2005. Griffin turned in 68 tackles, three TFLs, two interceptions and six PBUs en route to honorable mention All-Big 12 honors as a junior and has 189 tackles, seven TFLs, three interceptions and 17 PBUs in 38 career games (31 starts). Tarell Brown is competing with junior Aaron Ross for the other CB job. Brown registered 42 tackles, five TFLs, 1.5 sacks and four PBUs in starting all 12 games last year. Ross has played in 25 career games and posted 63 tackles, one interception and five PBUs. Sophomores Brandon Foster and Erick Jackson have game experience and Ryan Palmer is a promising redshirt freshman, who missed 2004 with a knee injury. Foster played in nine games as a redshirt freshman last fall.

TEXAS TWO-STEP: Texas' secondary is led by a tandem of senior, fourth-year starters in SS Michael Huff and CB Cedric Griffin. Huff (38 starts) and Griffin (31 starts) have combined to start 69 career games. Huff and Griffin teamed to record 141 tackles, five TFLs, four interceptions and 20 PBUs in 2004. They have posted 398 tackles, 23 TFLs, nine interceptions and 47 PBUs during their careers.

BRINGING IT BACK: Against Oklahoma last season, Michael Huff made his first career interception that he did not return for a touchdown. He followed with a second at Kansas, leaving him still an exceptional 4-of-6 INTs returned for TDs. He returned a pick 27 yards for a score at No. 21 Oklahoma State in 2004. Huff, who returned an interception 55 yards for a score against New Mexico State earlier that season, tied his own school single-season record with two interception returns for a score in 2003. He also returned a pair of picks for scores (27 yards vs. Houston/28 yards vs. Texas A&M) in 2002. His four career interception returns for scores are a UT all-time record, eclipsing the mark of three he previously shared with Rod Babers (1999-2002) and Greg Brown (1997-2000). The NCAA record for career interception returns for TDs is five. That mark is shared by Jackie Walker of Tennessee (1969-71), Ken Thomas of San Jose State (1979-82) and Deltha O'Neal of Cal (1996-99).

SPECIALISTS RETURNING: Texas returns all of its primary kickoff/punt return men, its punter, a reliable deep snapper and a place-kicker and holder with game experience in 2005. Senior P Richmond McGee has steadily improved and enters his third year as the Horns punter and fourth handling kickoff duties. He averaged 39.7 yards on 49 punts and dropped 11 punts inside the opponents 20-yard line in 2004. Of his 75 kickoffs on the year, 28 were touchbacks. He has averaged 40.3 yards per punt on 95 career punts and dropped 20 punts inside the opponents 20. Of his 249 career kickoffs, 91 have been touchbacks. He also enters the year as the leader for the place-kicking duties. The Longhorns top kickoff returner, junior Selvin Young (career averages: 23.8 yards per kickoff return/17.5 per punt return), was sidelined for most of last season with a broken ankle and missed the spring season while he continued to rehab that injury. He registered a UT first when he returned a kickoff and punt for a TD in the same game in 2003. Young, who already has tied the UT record for career kick returns for scores at three (two punts/one kickoff), has returned two of his seven career punts for TDs. Junior Aaron Ross, who replaced the injured Young on punt returns in 2004, averaged 7.6 yards on 18 punt returns on the year. Sophomore Ramonce Taylor gained experience returning both kickoffs and punts as a true freshman and junior Tarell Brown has experience returning kickoffs. Senior PK David Pino, who filled in for an injured Mangum in the final two games of 2003 and has lettered twice, is competing with McGee for the place-kicking job. He has connected on three of his four career field goal attempts and 17-of-18 PATs. Junior Greg Johnson is battling for the punting job. Before transferring to UT in 2003, Johnson averaged 43.8 yards per punt, made eight-of-13 field goal attempts and all 27 of his PAT attempts en route to Freshman All-America honors at Vandy in 2002. Senior Nick Schroeder, who served as Cullen Loeffler's (now the snapper for the Minnesota Vikings) backup deep snapper in 2002-03, proved to be a solid replacement in handling those duties last fall. Senior Matt Nordgren returns with experience as holder.

SPECIALISTS LOST: The Horns will be without the services of three-time honorable mention All-Big 12 PK Dusty Mangum, who connected on the game-winning field goal in UT's Rose Bowl win over Michigan, as well as holder Tony Jeffery. Mangum, who connected on 11-of-15 field goals and 50-of-51 extra points in 2004, finished his career ranked third on the UT all-time scoring list (358 points/tops among kickers). Mangum made 50-of-73 field goals and 208-of-211 extra points, including a UT record 121 in a row at one point, in his four years as a starter. Jeffery handled the holding duties for the past two years.

TEXAS BY THE NUMBERS

- 1: Vince Young is the only player in Texas history to rush and pass for at least 1,000 yards in a season. He posted 1,849 yards passing and 1,079 yards rushing in 2004 after coming up two yards shy of accomplishing the feat in 2003.
- 2: Texas enters 2005 ranked No. 2 by both The Associated Press and the USA Today Preseason Coaches polls. The last time the Longhorns entered the year ranked second in The AP Preseason Poll was 1970. The Horns were ranked second by the coaches in 2002.
- 3: Texas is one of only three schools that have been ranked among the nation's Top 12 in the final polls in each of the last five seasons. The others are Oklahoma and Miami.
- 3: David Thomas has posted three of the top 10 longest receptions by a tight end in UT history.
- 4: With four rushing touchdowns at Texas Tech and versus Michigan in the Rose Bowl, Vince Young became the only UT quarterback to rush for at least four TDs in one game.
